(d) if so, the details thereof?

THE MINISTER OF STATE IN THE MINISTRY OF HOME AFFAIRS (SHRI MOHD. MAQBOOL DAR): (a) to (d) The Government of India believes in solution of problems through talks and negotiations to bring about peace, stability and development. The Government of India is prepared for talks with any group which is willing to work within the framework of the Constitution of India and abjure violence. The Government of India categorically rejects violence as a means of achieving any objective.

No talks have been initiated with the ultras of the North-Eastern region, as they have not, as of now, indicated their willingness for talks withint he above parameters and are continuing with violence.

In Jamamu & Kashmir, it is encouraging to note that a large number of persons who were formerly involved in militancy are now moving away from it. Some of them have also set up new groups and are anxious to participate in the political and democratic process. Some such persons and groups like the Forum for Permanent Resolution of J. & K. Problem, Awami League, etc. have been in contact and dialogue with the Government. The discussions have, inter
